B. ABOUT COOPERATION

With the many activities that Spring always brings to our campus, there is need for cooperative relationships between Schools, Divisions, Departments and individuals. Fortunately, our staff recognizes the value of "working together," and as a result, the institution's reputation for making guests feel welcome continues to grow. We are proud of our all-college cooperation, and solicit its continuation throughout the school year.

C. THE MONTH AHEAD

Part "A" of this NEWSLETTER provides evidence of the many activities to be held on our campus during the month. All the facilities and energies that we can command will be needed to make the various programs successful. Each of you is asked to check the activity-agenda frequently, in order that no program will fail to receive its proper planning, execution and recognition. It should be kept in mind that each activity is important. Particularly it is necessary that every person assume his responsibilities in connection with the athletic and literary events during the Interscholastic League Meets. The visiting teachers who bring students to enter the competitions are very serious about their entries. As the "final authority" in the contest-judging, it is imperative that we be competent, diligent, and impartial. Fine Arts Week will provide several very fine programs for the enjoyment of the entire community. Each staff member is encouraged to attend these presentations, and it will be appreciated if the student body is reminded of the value of the week's series of cultural exhibits and productions.

D. IN CLOSING

I would like to take this opportunity to wish for each of you a very peaceful and pleasant Easter observance. May there be only joy in our hearts for the beauties of the season, and for our good fortune in being able to witness the season of New Life.

Very truly yours,

E. B. Evans, President
